

The (Proposed) Food Regulations

What they could mean for horticulture businesses

The Food Act passed into law on 1 March 2014. Since then, MPI has been drafting the Food Regulations which will underpin the new Act.

Earlier this year MPI drew up a set of proposals, which they are thinking of including in the regulations. They got feedback from industry on these proposals, which was generally supportive. So MPI will now finalise the draft regulations.

The following information is our own interpretation of how the Food Act is likely to be implemented in the horticulture industry.
